J. C. Crawford Elected to Presidency of Christian Missionary Organization

Pittsburgh Promoted From Vice-Presidency by Western Pennsylvania Society.

FIRST CHANGE IN 27 YEARS

Head of A. Denton of Altoona Elected President of Western Pennsylvania Society.

At the afternoon session of the Western Pennsylvania Christian Missionary Society at the Christian Church Wednesday, J. C. Crawford of Pittsburgh, vice-president, was elected president of the organization. He succeeds the late Robert Latimer and is the second to hold that office. Mr. Latimer having been elected successively for 25 years and serving to the time of his death last winter. Mr. Crawford is engaged in business in Pittsburgh and regarded as an able successor to Mr. Latimer.

Other officers elected were: First vice-president, W. J. Herberger, Pittsburgh; second vice-president, C. Ward, Greensburg; treasurer, Clark D. Boggs, Pittsburgh; secretary, D. Park Chapman, Greensburg.

Trustees chosen for one year, are: M. M. Cochran, Uniontown; W. L. Fender, New Castle; C. A. Irwin, Big Run; Rome Hudson, Bellevue; J. C. Kimpfle, Beaver.

The board of managers is made up of: F. A. Bright, Sharon; W. H. Hunsu, Pittsburgh; C. M. Small, New Castle; J. N. Scholtes, Waynesburg; S. J. Reno, Pittsburgh; J. W. Berryman, Charlot.

Mrs. H. A. Denton of Altoona was elected to head the Pennsylvania Women's Christian Missionary Society for the ensuing year. The election took place Wednesday.

Donna succeeds Mrs. J. C. Crawford of Pittsburgh, who retired after holding the post four years. Miss May V. Rickard of Plymouth and Mrs. Robert H. Lee of Uniontown were elected vice-presidents.

Mrs. E. Robertson of Scranton, treasurer; Mrs. Ethel B. Jenkins of Plymouth, general secretary; Mrs. W. D. Stiff of Scranton, recorder.

California was chosen as the place for the meeting in September, 1925.

Features of the evening session of the Western Pennsylvania Society and the Pennsylvania Christian Women's Missionary Society were the gold jubilee banquet, served by women of the Methodist Protestant Church, and the golden jubilee pageant, presented under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Porter.

Three hundred persons were served at the banquet in the church gymnasium. Following this there were several talks and an address lasting a half hour by F. E. Smith of St. Louis, secretary of the board of ministerial relief. Following his address about $600 was subscribed toward the jubilee fund. There is a shortage of $10,000 on the state's quota of $50,000.

The Western Pennsylvania organizations were asked to make up a report of this. The total is to be reported at the convention of the United Christian Missionary Society in Cleveland in October. Others who spoke were Mrs. Ethel B. Jenkins, general state secretary of the Western Christian Missionary Society; Miss Bessie Beckett, a worker in the youth end of Fayette county; Dr. Royal J. Dye and Rev. George Walker Duckson, pastor of the local church, who told of a "gold bond" $50 gift from the late Mrs. Emma A. E. Kirtz and of her gifts to the Christian Endeavor Societies. Mrs. J. C. Crawford, the retiring state president, presided.

The program was scheduled for 8 o'clock but by the time the afternoon banquet program had been closed it was 9 o'clock. In the meantime the church was packed with the exception of a limited space reserved for the delegates at the banquet table.

The result was that every bit of standing space in the auditorium was filled to capacity. Much time and work and study had been given to the preparations for the pageant, which was quite an elaborate one. It consisted of eight scenes and every one reflected credit on the persons who were responsible for its presentation.

Previous to the pageant, taking about five minutes time, honor certificates were presented to 33 societies which reached jubilee time in the effort to raise $25,000, included among these were: W. M. and the Jessie M. Gray Mission, Connellsville. The men societies which received certificates included the following churches: California, Waynesburg, Beaver Park, Philadelphia, Keokuk, Squibb Hill, Washington, First, Washington Second, Monongahela, Love Pine, McKees Rocks, Greensburg and Turtle Creek, Washington First, Beaver and Altoona. Christian Church circles were included. The Tri-Union Second, Monongahela, Love Pine, McKees Rocks, Greensburg and Turtle Creek, Washington First, Beaver and Altoona. First and Williamsburg churches. Boys and Girls clubs to receive the certificates were from Washington.

SLAYER OF WEST NEWTON CHIEF IS STILL AT LARGE

Officers searching for James Scott, a negro who early Tuesday morning shot and killed Chief of Police George Rie of West Newton, are still following up clues that may possibly lead to the whereabouts of the slayer.

The negro held yesterday at South Greensville was not the man wanted and after being viewed by the authorities of Westmoreland county was turned loose.

Today the county detective and his posse are following another lead. The one which developed overnight, centering around Gallatin, about 10 miles north of West Newton, "blew up" this morning. Reports had been to the effect that the posse was closing in on the murderer.

A suspect was arrested by High Constable Jerry Rittenour of Vanderbilt today at noon. The negro answered the description of the slayer and is being held in the local lockup. The chief questioned the suspect who gave his name as John Copeland. He said his home is at Atlanta, Ga., but that he has been making his home in the Pittsburgh district for about six or seven years.

Constable Rittenour arrested him near the W. J. Rainey store at Vanderbilt this morning at 10 o'clock and brought him to the city.

WIDOW OF 82 NERVOUS AS SHE WEDES MAN 29

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 18.—Jack B. Grimes, a handsome 29-year-old engineer, and Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Gray, 82-year-old widow of Washington, were married shortly before noon in the parsonage of the Baptist Church at Portsmouth.

The couple left the home of Mrs. Edna Coleman, where the bride was waiting, in a taxi and upon arrival were questioned by Rev. A. R. Love, pastor of the church, who performed the ceremony.

Dr. Love asked one question. "I understand, Mrs. Gray, that you have one child, a daughter, and that she is not opposed to this wedding. Am I correct?"

"Yes," said Mrs. Gray in a low voice.

The aged woman was escorted to the parsonage of the church by the bridegroom and J. R. Porter, Grimes' best man, who is employed in the same theatre in which the bridegroom is the organist. Mrs. Gray was very nervous during the ceremony.

New York Central Lines Field Meet Saturday, Cleveland

The New York Central and track meet of the Cleveland Field Meet will be held Saturday in Cleveland, where the winners in the elimination contests held by the divisions of the New York Central Lines will meet in the final contest. Special trains will carry the contestants and others who will attend the meet.

An elimination contest was held by the Division of Lake Erie, a division of the New York Central Lines, on Saturday, August 30, at Idora Park, Youngstown, Ohio. A delegation is expected to attend the meet from the Young Valley District, about 20 having signified their intention of going.

Crowe Will Fight Against Pardon for Bernard Grant

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Attorney Clarence Darrow and State's Attorney Crowe, victor and vanquished in the sensational Leopold-Loeb murder case, will come to grips again next month, this time over the life of a penniless youth.

Now that Darrow has promised to appear personally before the Board of Pardons in behalf of Bernard Grant sentenced to hang October 17 for the murder of a politician, Crowe has started to prepare his brief against pardon or commutation of sentence.

When Darrow appears before the board he will have the weight of some 2,000,000 names behind him.

"Good and Drunk" Expensive. "My good and drunk" Andy Perkinson of Latentown No. 4 said this morning when given a hearing in police court on a charge of drunkenness. He was arrested last night. Andy said he drank "just as much" whisky in Mount Pleasant, measuring out about three inches on his hand. He had lost his hat and didn't know where it was. His little brown coat had just $100 fine a $5 bill that he had in his pocket when he started for Mount Pleasant, and a new hat.

JOHN L. KEFFER, VETERAN TEACHER, WRITER, IS DEAD

Fayette's Staunchest Friend of W. J. Bryan Succumbs in Uniontown Hospital.

Engaged as Reporter on Uniontown Sentinel and Connellsville News and at Time of Death Was Correspondent of The Courier, Was a Mason.

John L. Keffer, veteran Fayette county teacher and former newspaperman, is dead.

The end came this morning at 7:30 o'clock at the Uniontown Hospital, to which Mr. Keffer was removed from his home at Keffer, near Dunbar, last Friday for an operation. His ailment had no sapped his vitality that the physicians decided that he was too weak for the ordeal.

Mr. Keffer had been unwell for several weeks. He had been in the school term at Uniontown, North Union township, where he was engaged in his chosen work, he complained of falling health. He had declined steadily since that time, early in June.

If there was one thing for which John Keffer was known more than his love for the work of the school room it was his allegiance to William Jennings Bryan. Always a Democrat of the staunchest type, Mr. Keffer, from the entry of the Common Pleas in national politics, had been his disciple. He was a personal friend of Bryan and during the time the Nebraska was secretary of state was entertained at his home in Washington.

For more than 10 years Mr. Keffer was engaged as teacher. He had before he was 21. All these years he was engaged in two townships—his home town, Dunbar, and in North Union, which adjoins. For a few years he followed newspaper work, first on the Uniontown Sentinel, then on the Connellsville News. For several years he had been correspondent at Dunbar and in that vicinity for The Courier and the Uniontown Sentinel. He was a ready writer and knew a story when he saw it and also knew how to put it together to make it readable.

For a year, during one of Cleveland's administrations, Mr. Keffer was employed as postal clerk on the Pennsylvania Railroad between New York and Chicago. He did not find that in his liking and returned to his home.

The old home in which Mr. Keffer was born on February 20, 1864, still stands—just across the road from his residence. He was one of the sturdy residents of that community. He was twice married. His first wife was Mary J. Dalton of Trenton, N. J. Of this union there survive a son, Grover C., connected with the H. C. Frick Coke Company at Connellsville, and two daughters, Mrs. Sadie (Mrs. Keffer) and Mrs. Anna Williams (Mrs. Keffer).

His second wife was Miss Adia Hunsu, who survives, with four of their six children. The children are Benjamin F., Richard M., Ruth and Fred H., all at home. One of the sons who died was named after the Commodore.

There survives also a brother, D. A. Keffer of Sunnington, near Park, and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah R. Hunsu, on the old homestead, and Mrs. Thomas Dalton of Florence, in the Monongahela Valley.

In religious life, Mr. Keffer was a Methodist. His allegiance to the church was even stronger than that to his political party. He was a charter member of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Dunbar. He had been a Methodist since early childhood. He was a member of the Masons in Uniontown.

Among the township offices to which he was elected was road supervisor. He also had been register assessor for several years, holding the office at the time of his death. He was a candidate years ago for the Legislature but went down to defeat with other Democrats in a Republican victory.

The funeral will probably be Sunday. In charge of the Masons funeral will be in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

DEATH TOLL IN KEMMERER MINE PLACED AT 35

KEMMERER, Wyo., Sept. 18. The list of the bodies of 35 miners who perished in the explosion in Kemmerer mine Monday will be removed today. Bodies of 31 victims now lie in the morgue here.

Recent workers said that others had been located but that they would be some difficulty getting them to the surface through the debris, caused by the explosion. Only 12 escaped alive.

PRISON WARDEN HANGS SELF JUST AS HE SAW SCORES GO TO DEATH

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Hanged by memories of executions he had witnessed while chief warden at Wandsworth Prison, Charles Laxell hanged himself today with all the elaborate detail with which he had seen scores of men go to their deaths.

The aged man—just 80—went through the complete death house formula. First he found that the shed was the spot for the suicide was the same number of paces from his house as the Wandsworth execution shed was from the death cell. Early in the morning he arose and demanded his favorite dishes, in accordance with prison custom to permit those under sentence to eat what they like the morning of their execution. He was given these delicacies. Then he told his family he did not care to be disturbed and had a "few jobs to do" in the shed he was going to the shed.

He had been strung from a rafters. This was in accordance with prison custom. Then he mounted a pair of steps, and heaved the noose about his throat and leaped through a trap door. His body was found several hours later.

ONE SAFER FROM LIGHTNING WHILE LYING PROSTRATE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18.—A person lying flat on the ground during a thunder storm is less likely to be struck by a bolt of lightning than a person standing.

Light, Dr. W. Peak, Jr., consulting engineer of the General Electric Company, told the world's foremost scientists today when they gathered for the second session of the Franklin Institute centenary celebration. Dr. Peak said that lightning strikes above the ground.

ARMY AIRMEN HOP FOR ST. JO

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 18.—The ground-world fliers arrived here from Omaha at 12:19 P. M. today.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 18.—The Army ground-world fliers hopped off for St. Joseph, Mo., at 10:36 A. M. today.

A delay of one and one-half hours in the start was caused by misty weather in the morning.

Fourth Murder Case Of Term Under Way

September court's fourth homicide case was opened yesterday when John C. Marlon, of Uniontown, near Point Marion, was arraigned before Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen. Marlon pleaded not guilty. The selection of a jury was taken up by counsel.

At noon today the following jurors had been chosen:

Norman G. Baker, Springfield 1.
John Reckner, Uniontown 2.
Homer Hunsu, Springfield 2.
Lake L. Moore, Georges 2.
Mrs. Anna Durbin, South Connellsville.

Nesley Murphy, Fayette City.
Norman G. Baker, Uniontown.
Mrs. William L. Lower Tyrone.
Mary C. King, Uniontown.

Hunsu is alleged to have killed Isaac Foskey on the evening of last July 13 as the result of a jealous argument over a woman. Foskey is said to have been shot three times in the chest. The charges are in a trunk. At a point near Point Marion after a wordy argument Hunsu left the truck and without warning shot Foskey.

A trial in divorce was filed Wednesday in the case of Mrs. Adia Hunsu, who is charged with adultery with Darrell W. Smiley by Adia Hood of Gates. She charges her husband, Frank Hood of Palmer with cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married at Youngstown, Ohio, April 18, 1921.

West Penn Folks Will Hold Corn Roast Sept. 23

FIRE CAUSES $75,000 LOSS AT SALISBURY

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER. MEYERSDALE, Sept. 18.—The town of Salisbury, Somerset county, was visited by fire which caused about $75,000 damage Tuesday. The town has no water system and the big engines that were brought from outside had to be used. Chemical agents provided the chief element in combating the flames and finally to prevent the spread the Hay Hotel was dynamited. At this point the fire was checked.

The fire broke out about 3 o'clock in Frank Kiefer's store. It wiped out the east side of Great street, the main thoroughfare between Union and Fourth streets. This is the very center of the town. The buildings destroyed include the Valley or Lee hotel, the principal hotel, the Hay Hotel, the principal hotel, the two-story frame structures with the stores underneath and the Hay Hotel, which was dynamited. The flames jumped over the street and destroyed the McKinley building, a two-story frame structure, the first floor of which was occupied by C. D. Wagner's grocery store and the second by lodgings.

New York Beaten But Pirates Fail to Gain

Pittsburgh failed to gain ground on the New York Nationals in the first games of the double-headers played by those teams today. At Philadelphia the Pirates went under by a score of 6-5. Brooklyn and St. Louis were running nip and tuck for victory in the first game of their twin bill.

In the second games New York was defeating Cincinnati and Pittsburgh was trailing behind Philadelphia.

County W. C. T. U. Will Send 19 to State Convention

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Fayette County will send 19 delegates from the different unions in the county to the annual state convention to be held October 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18, in Pittsburgh, announcement to this effect being made at the morning session of the county convention which convened yesterday morning in the Trinity Lutheran Church and closed with a session this afternoon. Splendid reports were submitted by committees.

Mrs. Asa B. Dilliner of Uniontown, president, in behalf of the Uniontown union, presented 45, making Mrs. Ester A. Bird of Uniontown a life member.

At noon the convention adjourned for the forenoon and the delegates and others in attendance assembled in the church diningroom where lunch was served.

Mrs. Dilliner was re-elected president of the union yesterday. Other officers, re-elected, are: Vice-president, Mrs. G. B. Roberts, Vanderbilt; recording secretary, Mrs. Ora Stumpf of Uniontown; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary McVay of Brownsville; treasurer, Mrs. J. Blair of Fayetteville; branch secretary, Mrs. Phoebe Hewitt of Pittsburgh.

In addressing the convention yesterday on "Observance of the Law," Rev. J. A. Effenberger, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, said that the man or woman who observes the law lives above the law. He said that the Eighteenth Amendment is not a failure and the Christian people of the country were responsible for the amendment and that we need to create a law observance sentiment and First, by trying the white ribbon on the children, and second, by the Loyal Temperance Legion. He advised commending the officials for the good thing they accomplished in trying to enforce the laws, and not always criticizing them for the errors they make. He said that the reason why the 18th Amendment was repeated because it is not enforced in every instance.

Mrs. N. M. Dobbie sang "The Bridge Builders," accompanied by Mrs. Clayton Campbell. Previous to the election of officers reports were given by the superintendent and the superintendent of the Loyal Temperance Legion of Connellsville featured the program. A reading was given by Mrs. W. J. Kennedy.

The 1925 convention will be held in Uniontown during the week of September. The convention was raising vote of thanks to the minister and board of trustees of the Trinity Lutheran Church, the speakers and all others who helped to make the convention a success.

ILLINOIS WILL GIVE COOLIDGE ELECTORAL VOTE

LaFollette Will Have Considerable Support But Will Not Change Result.

REPUBLICAN HARMONY

Prevailing, Hence Situation Is Different From 1912 When Party Divided Between State to Wilson; Democrats Next Concerned About State Ticket

By DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright 1924 by The Daily Courier.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Illinois at the moment is not seriously enough affected by the candidacy of Senator LaFollette to warrant optimism among Democrats that John W. Davis will profit by the split and capture the electoral vote as did Wilson in 1912 when the Republican party was divided.

There is an unquestioned drift or undercurrent or silent vote in the defensible trend toward LaFollette from the ranks of the workmen and from farmers who want class government. This vote will be considerable but in a state which Harding carried by a million majority in 1920, Coolidge could afford to lose 300,000 or more votes and not feel it.

In other words, in a strongly Republican state like this only a Roosevelt with a dominating influence among regulars as well as progressives can prevent the electoral vote from being cast for a Republican. And it is admitted on all sides that LaFollette is no Roosevelt.

The number of votes LaFollette may get is, of course, an interesting subject for speculation and perhaps will be regarded with gratification by the LaFollette supporters who hope to play the foundation of a progressive party, but in the matter of electoral votes a mile of an inch isn't any better than a mile. William Howard Taft seeking re-election in 1912 polled a big popular vote, probably more than LaFollette will get this year, but Taft received only a few electoral votes and that's what counts.

So in Illinois what LaFollette sentiment is by no means unimportant. It will not change the result of the electoral vote which at present writing would appear to be safe for President Coolidge.

There are certain aspects of the campaign which could be disquieting if the Republican managers didn't know their Illinois. For example Governor Len Small is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket and he has retained from endorsing President Coolidge or opposing meetings where the regular Republican national organization sends speakers. The regular nominees like former Governor Deneen, who is running for United States Senator, to succeed Modell McCort, are keeping away from Small and his effect of which will not be lost on the LaFollette type of voter. Indeed, Governor Small will help Senator LaFollette for many who will vote for the former will vote for the Wisconsin leader too.

One hears that LaFollette will draw as many from the Democrats as from the Republicans. This is an assumption that ignores, however, the fact that the Republican ticket in Illinois is especially since the ascendancy of Len Small has developed quite a radical wing, while among the Democrats the radical groups are relatively small. Many laboring men who are Democrats ordinarily will turn to LaFollette but it would appear that even larger throngs will be made late in the campaign by the Democratic organization party. The Democratic party has a ticket of its own to elect and whatever its feeling may be about Davis it must work tooth and nail for the whole ticket to win for the state ticket. So the energies of the Democratic leaders throughout the state are directed toward holding the line while the Republican management cannot hope for similar support because of the split in the party, developed by Governor Small in recent years.

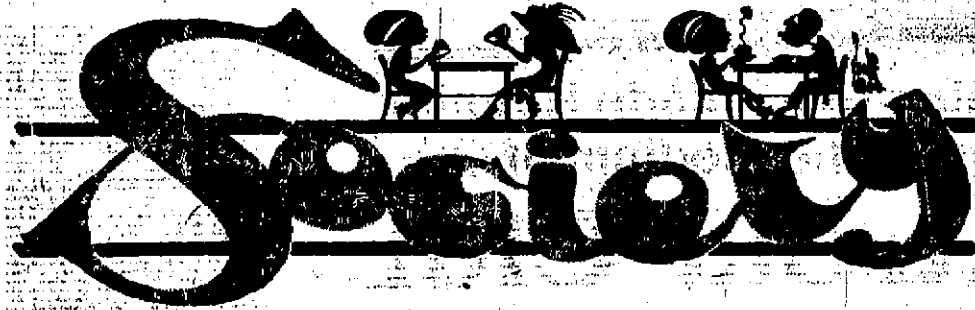

U. S. Steel Will Abandon Pittsburg Plus Registry System

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The United States Steel Corporation, which, with its subsidiaries, was ordered July 21 by the Federal Trade commission to discontinue the Pittsburg plus practice of price-making, has agreed to comply with the order and will abandon the practice. It has notified the trade commission here.

What action independent steel makers of the Pittsburgh area will take is not yet known but it is believed they will follow the United States Steel House.

Rehard, son of Cramer and Randolph Star Junction, were married yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the presence of the Third Presbyterian Church of Uniontown. Rev. A. A. Hoidt, the pastor officiated. The bride wore a traveling suit of navy blue with a corsage of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Frances Shiley, as maid of honor, also wore a tailored suit and a corsage of roses. H. D. Blair of Perryopolis was Mr. Rehard's best man. The bride has been employed for the past four years in the division accountant's office of the Munition division of the Pennsylvania railroad in Uniontown. Upon their return from a motor trip to Coonau Lake, Niagara Falls and Toronto, Can. Mr. and Mrs. Rehard will be at home in Perryopolis, where the former is employed by the First National Bank.

At Harlin-Durica Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Durica, who were united in marriage yesterday, will leave tomorrow for Youngstown, Ohio, the home of the groom, where they will make their home. At the nuptials, which took place in St. Stephen's Greek Catholic Church at Lelscarling No. 1, Miss Sophia Harlin of Laurel Hill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Kathryn Votchko of Oliver No. 1, matron. Joseph Shirlin of Youngstown, Ohio, served as best man. The bridesmaids were Anna Votchko of Pittsburgh, Anna Bakos and Irene Tuffery of Uniontown, Elmore Frobe, Katherine Harlin and Anna Harlin of Laurel Hill. The ushers were John Durica of Youngstown, Ohio, Michael Whorrie of Vandalia, Michael Harlin, Walter Tobin, John Harlin, Jr. and John Harlin of Laurel Hill.

Stauder-Herley.
Miss Mabel Stauder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Stauder of Scotts Dale, and Miss R. Herley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Herley of Scotts Dale, were married Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. A. Resner, pastor of the Scottish Mission Church. Attendances were Miss Olga Bentz and J. Milton Buzard, both of Scotts Dale. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in the bride's home. Upon their return from an eastern trip Mr. and Mrs. Herley will be at home at Scotts Dale.

League Welner Hosts.
The Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Vanderhill will meet at the church this evening at 7 o'clock to go to Bricker's Recreation Park for a water coast and an informal lawn. The recreation program at the park will close with a song and prayer service. The league will return at 9:15 o'clock. Miss Grace Telephor, Miss Dorothy Shellenberger and the pastor, Rev. C. H. Beall, will be in charge.

Licensed in Uniontown.
Frank Rittenour of New Stanton and Masha Wassor of Mount Pleasant, Mike Adams of Star Junction and Elizabeth Micks of Uniontown, Lewis Richka of Youngstown, Ohio, and Anna Yanko of Star Junction, Abraham Morris and Mary Burnworth, both of Ohio, J. Frank Hall of Thompson No. 2 and Susie Deed of Dunbar, were licensed to wed in Uniontown.

Hints About Fashions for Careful Dressers

If you are not the type to wear tailored effects you can find many interesting costumes with soft roll collars that are much more flattering and just as effective.

A black satin gown on youthful lines is given a distinctive handling by the addition of an apron of Chinese red chiffon—very finely pleated and bound with gold fringe.

Navy blue and black organdie are used very knowingly this season and will be seen on people who have never felt it was smart enough for consideration.

Many frocks of dainty printed muslin show rounded overlapping flounces that give a graceful swing to the hemline.

A black satin tulle is relieved of any suggestion of plainness by a deep fringe of gray georgette crepe. Gauntlet gloves are in vogue. They will be worn with the new coat-suits this fall.

Knitted silk underwear is very durable and can be had in any of the delicate pastel shades.

The college girl will appreciate the new brass-eyed oxfords, which are just the thing for sports. These should be worn with a dark frock or suit.

Dyed lace scarfs are being worn with evening gowns.

Little Known About Atom

No one has ever seen an atom although scientific records of today are filled with research information, all of which has been gleaned from studying the performances of groups of atoms. No microscope has ever been invented powerful enough to make atoms or even a single molecule, which is a group of associated atoms, visible, and there is little hope in this direction because the modern microscope, according to those who should know, is about as near perfect as it may be expected to become.

Actor Arrested.
"Doc" Paul, principal comedian and manager of Mary Brown's Kicked Koo Revue at the Arcade, was arrested by Officer Andy Thomas at the corner of Pittsburgh and Crawford avenues on Tuesday evening. Officer Thomas said that the actor disregarded the traffic signal but at a hearing Mayor O. C. Mitchell released Paul and returned him to his party.

Impaired Lungs Aid Society.
Will hold a supper at the church Thursday evening, 8:30 to 7. Plates 5c, menu: stewed potatoes, mashed, roast pork, stewed apple sauce, sliced tomatoes, rolls, cake and coffee. Everybody welcome. Advertisement, 14-cent list.

Baby in Teaspoon Home.
Mr. and Mrs. George Doppelheuer of Penlar Groya are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, their first child, on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Doppelheuer will be remembered as Miss Nostide

Beauty starts with cleanliness

Many a skin would grow clearer if properly cleansed every day. Sweetheart Soap does it with the most wonderful, rich creamy lather in hot or cold water, hard or soft. Mother—And what did you say?

Billy—That I'd rather have some cake to be going on with.

NERVOUS, RUN-DOWN MOTHERS

Worn-Out Caring for Children and Housework—See how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"I was in a very nervous and run-down condition when I was nursing my baby, and hearing some talk of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began taking it. From the second bottle I noticed a marked improvement, and I am still taking it. I am not a bit nervous now, and feel like a different person. It has helped me in many ways, and I think there is no better medicine and give you permission to publish this letter."

Mrs. ANNA SHIRRA, 541 W. Norwood Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

The important thing about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is that it does help women suffering from the ailments common to their sex.

If you are nervous and run-down and have pains in your lower parts and in your back, remember that the Vegetable Compound has relieved other women having the same symptoms. For sale by druggists everywhere.

GULBRANSEN

The Registering Piano

Real Piano Music—on the Gulbransen

The Gulbransen Registering Piano is an instrument played by music-roll and pedals, that you can play in a musical way, with all the expression and feeling you have.

To play what you will—as you will—when you will! To give full rein to all your undeveloped musical talent. Just think what this means to you who have never learned to play by hand, or having once learned, have not had the time or opportunity to keep in practice! No tedious fingering! No long study! Just think what the Gulbransen means to that musically-promising daughter—to that growing young son—to live in, and share in, such musical, homebuilding influences. Real piano music? Yes. But make this test yourself—

Try any simple piece on the Gulbransen. You will be delighted at the musical results you can get—so natural and pleasing. Then try an operatic air, or something more classical. You will be agreeably surprised how wonderfully well you can play it. Whatever kind of music classical—you will positively marvel at the personality and life you can put into anything and everything you play on your Registering Gulbransen.

LEAGUE GAME AT DICKERSON RUN OFF TO OCT. 2

Postponement Ordered That Lake Erie Employees May Attend R. H. Track Meet.

ABATE BOOKS SERIES

Special to The Courier.
YANDERBILT, Sept. 18.—The game scheduled between McKees Rocks and Dickerson Run for Saturday at the latter place has been postponed until Thursday, October 2. The game was postponed in order to let some of the players attend the grand field and track meet of the New York Central Lines that will be held at Cleveland Saturday. The first postponement of the "Pittsburgh & Lake Erie" league took place last Saturday when rain interfered with the scheduled game between Dickerson Run and Monaca. The date for the postponement has not been announced but the game will probably be played in October. The Young Valley also has been doing creditable work under Skipper Bill Adde, having defeated each of the other four clubs once. They upset baseball dope in the league when they trounced the undefeated Newell club.

Still Talking Title.
Still determined that his outfit is entitled to a crack at the county amateur championship. Business Manager Abate of the Diya Independent, claims that he has arranged a three-game series with the Ralph club. The first game will be played Monday evening at the Dickerson Run grounds, the second on the following Friday at Ralph the third, if necessary, on neutral grounds. It is probable that it will be played on the Uniontown field, if it needs to be played, according to Abate.

D. of A.'s Meet.
The regular weekly session of the Freedom Council, Daughters of America was held last evening in Junior Hall. There was a large attendance.

Council Meets Tomorrow.
The borough council will hold a session tomorrow evening at the office of Burgess R. E. McLaughlin. A meeting was held Monday evening but was adjourned until Friday immediately after it was opened.

Visiting in Chicago.
Misses Bessie and Estelle Popovic are spending a three weeks' vacation with friends and relatives in Chicago. Attending Convention.

H. Glenn Carpenter, pastor of the Christian Church, is attending the 41st annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Missionary Society and Pennsylvania Women's Missionary Society in Conneltsville.

Bachelor-Benedict Series Over.
The series between the bachelors and the housewives at the Dickerson Run car shops was suspended today. A game was scheduled for this evening but was called off and it was made known that there will be no more games between the two teams this year. The single men had three victories chalked to their credit while the married contingent boasts of one victory and one forfeited game. Joseph Ambrose was in charge of the bachelors while P. H. Fieldson managed the married men.

Personal Mention.
Martin Kotch was a caller in Conneltsville last evening.

Louis Stoner was calling on friends and relatives in Uniontown last evening.

Lewis Marotti, Joseph Bonadilla and Harry Shallenborger were transacting business in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Roy Stoner was a business caller in Uniontown yesterday.

Michael Whorle attended the Harlan-Durfee nuptials at Laurel Hill yesterday.

Louis Marone, Nicholas Cavalcante and Angelo Vardon were calling on friends at Brownsville last evening.

Brier Hill Mine

Resumes Activity

The Brier Hill mine of the Brier Hill Coal Company, a subsidiary of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, has resumed mining operations after a prolonged idleness. Its output will be about 3,000 tons a day.

The Nesquehanna mine of the Brier Hill Coal Company, in Greene county, affiliated with the same interests, has increased its force of men and is now producing 3,000 tons per day.

STEEL MARKET HAS FAILED TO IMPROVE DURING SEPTEMBER

Selling Pressure Increased Without Price Cutting Although Some Shading Is Being Done.

Special to The Weekly Courier.
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Review will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:
• While the steel market has not definitely had a setback in the past fortnight it has undergone a change which seems nearly as unfavorable, for it has slightly failed to improve since the first of the month. As there was practically continuous improvement during July and August, months usually expected to be dull in steel, the failure of September to show further gain is noteworthy.

Continuance of the same volume of business as was moving late in August would represent a new trend by the failure of further gains to occur, but it appears that there has been an actual decrease in the turnover, making a distinctly new situation. Steel producers are evidently keenly cognizant of the new trend and are practically all hands "value efforts" have been increased. The increased selling pressure does not take the course of cutting prices, but it does appear that in several finished steel lines there is a little more shading of regular prices than a fortnight ago. The shading is more widespread, rather than deeper. This is noticed in most of the heavy rolled products, bars, shapes and plates, and also in sheets. Pipe continues its remarkable course of holding the price of April 1923, but the closing of a pipe mill started only a month ago after several months of idleness may perhaps be suggestive of conditions in that line.

Less emphasis is being placed in train cycles on rail and freight car inquiry than a fortnight ago, it being recognized that such buying would hardly increase steel production at this time, being rather in line to support the previous pace of production, as the old orders have lately been running out.

Production and shipments of finished steel are at between 55 and 60 per cent, or at the pace of late August and comparing with about 45 per cent for July, the low month. As the average since the Armistice has been about 65 per cent, it might not be easy for mills to work up to that level after having been at a new record high only six months ago.

Woman Sues Miners' Union for $100,000

Eight labor union locals and over a score of individuals, mostly officers of unions at Hurst and other portions of Williamson county, Illinois, are defendants in a suit for $100,000 damages filed in the United States District Court, at Danville by Isabel Russell, of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

She alleges she lost her position as manager of the Herrin Supply Company because she had been blacklisted by the unions and a demand was made on her employers for her dismissal. Mrs. Russell asserts that she was unable to obtain other employment as a result of the blacklist, and was forced to go to another state. The complainant's husband, T. P. Russell, was foreman of the mine-riot grand jury, which returned the indictments in the killings of the non-union miners in the mine-riot cases at Herrin.

No Finer Ham in the World

WHITE LILY Hams are standard, not made to fit a price. Due to the fact that they are taken only from choice, thus skinned little porkers—hard to secure at times—and are subjected to longer and more careful curing than most brands, they sometimes cost a cent or two per pound more, BUT THEY'RE ALWAYS GOOD—ALWAYS DELICIOUS. And you never get a poor one. Try a piece of White Lily—you will find it requires no parboiling, an exclusive feature. Baked or boiled, they are ideal for sandwiches or the delicious cold cuts so popular. Uncle Sam passes on their excellence before you get them and each bears the U. S. Government Inspection mark. Change in Production Course Has Definitely Set In After Long Wait

Start Made First Week of the Month Given New Impetus By Both Interests.

From The Weekly Courier.
For the first time since early March concrete proof has been given that a change in the course of coke production has definitely set in. Last week developed what is regarded as the real beginning of an upward climb in the rate of output. This week is furnishing evidence that tonnage is being pushed to a still higher level. The advance notice of the change came in the week of September 6 when a gain of 198 was made in the number of active merchant ovens. The real impetus to greater activity of the region as a whole was, however, given last week when the P. C. Frick Coke Company fired up 640 ovens at three plants and 85 were added at three merchant plants, one of which resumed after an idleness of several months. The movement toward larger production is being continued this week, the Frick Company placing 720 in blast at three plants and the merchants adding 400, including Lincoln, a long idle plant. Although production advanced to 55,970 tons last week the gain over the preceding week was not very noticeable, having been but 3,840 tons, but compared with 45,320 tons, produced during the week of August 9, which was the low point of the year to date, the increase of 9,650 tons is more indicative of the turn that has been taken since the slow upward trend began. Last week's production is in excess of that during the week ended July 5, which marked the second stage in the downward movement beginning in the week of March 22, immediately following the year's high tide mark of 249,250 tons.

Including the ovens newly fired during the first and second weeks of the present month 812 have already contributed to enlarging production. With the 720 being brought into production this week the aggregate increase since September 1 is 1,333. It is possible that before the close of the current there will be still other additions of a few ovens at several scattering plants.

The important fact of the situation, as it appears to the region generally, is that the slow drag toward gradually lower production records is fortunately over and that the long sustained suspense as to a change for the better is finally ended. While the developments thus far have been of a favorable character, no extravagant expectations are being entertained.

This Pretty Girl Who Defies Age Discloses Great Beauty Secret

Says It's Nothing More Than Old Fashioned Ordinary Butterfat In The Form of a Wonderful Cream. Is Guaranteed By All Good Drug and Department Stores.

The first application of Howard's Buttermilk Cream will astonish you. It creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the duldest, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crow's feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails, or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms.

caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at your favorite toilet goods counter with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money should you be dissatisfied. —Advertisement.

Cokers Will Open Grid Schedule Saturday With West Newton High Here

Big Crowd of Fans Is Anxious for Opportunity to See Locals in Action.

ENTHUSIASM IS RISING

Remarkable interest in football circles is turning to the High School grid outfit which opens its season Saturday. So much in favor of the possibility of a successful season has been heard that West Newton hundreds of fans will be at Fayette field to get a first hand glimpse of the Orange and Black defenders.

Considering the poor prospects at the opening of last season and the remarkable results accomplished by Coach Lerew and Buttle, the outcome of this year holds real promise of being a factor in High School circles. The squad reporting daily continues to number over 50 boys and every one is due for a change to make good. Coach Lerew has promised this and he never goes back on a promise.

Because the game scheduled for October 4, with Jeannette, means a hard proposition, the opening date of the local schedule was advanced from September 27 to the coming Saturday. This will allow the Cokers to have two clean "under their belts" by the time the first town school comes here in that period the coaches will be pretty well able to determine what they have.

Counsellvillians have looked up since hearing of High School's prospects. If Saturday presents clear skies one of the largest opening crowds ever attending a game is looked for, despite the fact that the contest is not considered a serious one.

SEASON TICKETS FOR FOOTBALL GAMES ON SALE FOR STUDENTS

A campaign for the sale of season football tickets is on in the High School. These tickets are sold to students at reduced rates and enable them to attend all games at home. W. L. Basom, an instructor in the school, is in charge of the sale.

Grid Enthusiasm Prevails Among D. T. H. S. Players

High enthusiasm is prevailing throughout Dunbar Township over its 1924 football squad, going through daily workouts on the Leaning No. 1 field. The alumni is taking an exceptional interest.

In the coach, H. N. Basom, Dunbar Township boasts of an excellent grid mentor. He is a being a variety man on a football team for eight years.

Couch Basom has taken an extraordinary interest in the game. The mentor "feels at home" when he is rigged in football logs for he loves the game. Capable men are assisting him. They are O. E. Zuercher, who puts the lads through their endurance tests, W. E. Twibohl and B. M. Shearer, both experienced men in all sports.

All eyes are looking towards the opening game of the season on Saturday, September 27, when the Counsellville grid will make their appearance on the Trotter field. An extra-large crowd from Dunbar Township was given a royal welcome and at 7 o'clock a banquet was served, nearly 100 members and visitors attending. W. D. McGinnis presided as toastmaster and short talks were given by Attorney R. S. Matthews, F. W. Wright, Attorney F. D. Munson, K. K. Kramer, all of Counsellville; Charles L. Miller of Scottsdale; C. W. Trexal, Gilbert Endley, Charles Ray and J. A. Lambert, all of Somerset.

The course was a big advantage to the home players, but the visitors praised it highly. The Somerset count was given a royal welcome and at 7 o'clock a banquet was served, nearly 100 members and visitors attending. W. D. McGinnis presided as toastmaster and short talks were given by Attorney R. S. Matthews, F. W. Wright, Attorney F. D. Munson, K. K. Kramer, all of Counsellville; Charles L. Miller of Scottsdale; C. W. Trexal, Gilbert Endley, Charles Ray and J. A. Lambert, all of Somerset.

Tornadoes Will Play Again This Season

The Counsellville Tornadoes, under the instructions of "Doc" Buttermore are working out daily at Fayette field. No definite organization has been completed but it seems quite likely that Counsellville will again have an independent team.

Reports from Uniontown are to the effect that District Attorney Brown will not permit Sunday football this year. Independent teams are also being organized at the county seat and at Brownsville.

Walter Hagen Preferred Baseball to Golf Game
Walter Hagen, whose recent victory in the British open golf championship crowned him again as the world's leading golfer, started out to be a baseball player. In a chat with Christy Mathewson, president of the Boston Nationals, Hagen confessed an ambition never realized.

"My great ambition," he said, "was to be a big league pitcher like you. Golf was a far away sort of thing then and I practiced that drop curve ball until it got my elbow. Then I put in a lot of time practicing batting and tried to see how far I could follow through the course of the ball. That's what I try to do now in golf."

Matty observed that until his knees some years ago, he was a passably good golfer.

Reward Popular Player

A committee of Brooklyn fans has been organized for the purpose of presenting in concrete form the popularity of James Harle Johnston, versatile member of the Brooklyn Dodgers. This committee intends to present to Johnston a high-class automobile as a reward for his services in the name of the Dodgers. A popular subscription has been started heartily endorsed by President Hobbs and the McKee brothers, owners of the Brooklyn club.

Ohio Awards Golf Letters
On the Ohio State golf team, the four members of which have been recommended for varsity "O's," are Clifford and Gifford King of Conestoga, twin brothers and considered two of the best college golfers in the Midwest. The other members of the team who have been recommended for their letters by Coach George Eckelberry are Robert S. Rogers of Toledo and Glen Patrio of Germantown, Pa.

Daubert as Trappist
While Jake Daubert, the popular Cincinnati Red who was temporarily put out of the diamond game a short time back by an injury received during a game, is known far and wide as a ball player, not so many fans are aware that he is also an expert trappist. Daubert is a well-known trappist. Daubert is a well-known trappist. Daubert is a well-known trappist.

Oliver Newspaper Decision
Gene Tunney, light-heavyweight champion, won the newspaper decision over Harry Grab at Cleveland last night.

HAIR STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY

Millions Use It—Few Cents Buys Jar at Drugstore

Even stubborn, unruly or shaggy hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified, combining cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that real touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. "Hair-Groom" is graceful; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair. Beware of greasy, harmful imitations.—Advertisement.

Padgett Fills Gap

Tossed into the breach made in the Boston infield by the tragic death of Boeckel last spring, Padgett, the rookie, has made good in the Boston place. He was secured from Menominee, Wis., by the Boston Red Sox. To desperation, Bancroft inserted the Southern leaguer at the hot corner. His pluck and his timely hitting won him the place.

Marston Is Scratch Man

Max Marston, national amateur champion, heads the handicap list of the state of Pennsylvania. Marston is placed in scratch and is the only player thus honored. Bill Fowles, Pittsburgh veteran, is a one-handed player, sharing the distinction with D. C. Cockran.

Simply ask your druggist for a box of Lebonon Hair Tablets and take tonight or directions advise. Every druggist will refund the purchase price if they fail to satisfy you, so try them tonight at our expense. Union Drug Co. can supply you.—Advertisement.

"UNDER TWO FLAGS"—A film version of Ouida's immortal tale of undying love with Priscilla Dean appearing in the leading role, opened today at the Soisson for a three-day attraction.

Cigarette had the passionate, self-sacrificing nature that a woman nurtured in the lap of fate might be expected to have. Ben Ali, who pressed the services of his "friendship" Arabs upon the French when desert tribes rose in wild revolt, called her a "child of the desert"—which has its meaning in the parlance of Algerian barracks. Reared by the roughest experiences, Cigarette was no dainty daughter of respectability.

Victor, the man of mystery, regarded her with complete indifference. That was as it should be. Who can love a woman who is so obviously a "gentleman"? Who was she? Everyone knew, and it wasn't complimentary. Victor shook his head to decide whether he should side with the French or Arabs. France won. Then the tragedy of the war with Ben Ali, cold, crafty, smiling, pushing his atrocious schemes against the French without suspicion, with Cigarette watching, waiting, longing for Victor and for the French, and with Victor, cynical, careless, unaware that Cigarette's undying love, made him the target for Ben Ali's murderous hatred.

Conway Tearle and Corinne Griffith will be seen soon in "The White Moth."

The Soisson

"THE BREATHLESS MOMENT" on view today at the Paramount, presents William Desmond in the stellar role. Desmond, in this play, is really an Americanized American. Lupton, music director, presents a role new to even his varied career before the camera. He portrays an audacious thief who prays on people of wealth much as a modern Robin Hood might do in a dress suit, until he takes over the management of a country grocery store.

Thereby hangs a tale—a tale that makes one of the most gripping, enthralling screen stories of the year. It starts when he rescues the child of his Nemesis, the detective trailing him, from an explosion and fire. The sleuth decides on a course of practical reform for him rather than prison bars, to show his gratitude. He takes charge of a country store and then finds that the problems of business management, made more interesting, perhaps, by his partner's pretty daughter, are far more interesting as the problem of reforming the thief of a bank vault without due process of law.

There are many long chapters in the play, which is pure drama every second. The battle of wits with the detective, the thrilling rescue from the explosion, the bank robbery he fails and his struggle with another crook to save the town bank from ruin are all vivid bits of superb acting.

Friday and Saturday Leo Maloney will be seen in "The Perfect Child."

"THE COVERED WAGON"—will be shown tonight at this theatre for the last time, there being two performances. The picture is one of the greatest screen achievements of the year and has attracted record breaking crowds at this theatre. Warren Kerrigan and Lois Wilson are seen in the leading roles, while thousands of persons are seen in the out door scenes. The beauty and charm of the picture will entrance every fan. In addition, one thousand Indians, and more than two thousand white persons are seen in the picture. Also there are upward of 1,000 horses, several hundred mules and 500 covered wagons. The center of activities was at the Baker Ranch. Prior to arriving there, Director James Cruze spent several days at Astoria, in the Great Salt Lake, making a buffalo hunt with 500 head of bison on that island.

The story of "The Covered Wagon" deals with a young army officer who is accused of theft by his rival, for the affections of a young woman attached to the wagon train which is on its way to Oregon. There are many thrilling moments in the development of Emerson Hough's fine story.

Friday and Saturday, Blanche Sweet and Bert Lytell will be seen in "The Meanest Man in the World."

MOST PITIFUL SIGHT IN LIFE

Is a Man or Woman Who Has No "Will-Power" as a Result of Nerve Force Exhaustion.

All the physical suffering which may be caused by nervous irritability, headaches, backaches, indigestion, heart palpitation, etc., as a result of nerve force exhaustion are nothing as compared with its awful effects upon the mind and "will power."

The most pitiful sight in life is a man or woman who has "no will"—who has no impulse and desires but not enough "will power" to carry them through. The memory also fails, the judgment is bad and everything therefore seems to go wrong.

In such cases, do not take more stimulating medicines, nor narcotic drugs, which only further injure your delicate nervous system, but what you need is something to put more nerve force into your nerves and more iron into your blood to help make new nerve force with which to feel your aching nerve cells. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron.

This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains strength-giving organic iron for the blood and may therefore be said to be both a blood and a nerve food. Millions of people are using it. Satisfaction results are guaranteed to every purchaser or the manufacturer will refund your money. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. Sold by all druggists.

Lake Shipments Fell Off Labor Day Week

The occurrence of the Labor Day interfered with the Lake movement of bituminous coal in the week ended September 7 and dumpings declined to 788,924 net tons. This was a decrease of 165,344 tons, or nearly 18 per cent.

Cumulative dumpings of cargo coal to September 7 stood at 12,772,503 tons, decrease of 30 per cent and 17 per cent, respectively, as compared with the corresponding periods of 1923 and 1921.

Long Sleeves and Tunic for Autumn

Radical Changes Meet With Disfavor—Fringe Trimming Favorite.

Genius and ingenuity have an oral similarity and nothing more. There is a vast difference between the poetic expression of a Shelley and the rhythmic of a futurist, between the masterpiece of a Whistler and the vivid painting of the impressionist. And there is an equally broad chasm separating the creative designer from the sensationally inclined dressmaker, who will even espouse the grotesque in an endeavor to give entirely something different. The test of true greatness in fashion, asserts a Paris writer in the New York Herald-Tribune, lies in the ability of the designer to inject a different mood rather than to create a new mode. Through the almost imperceptible raising of the waistline, the scarcely invisible change in the sleeve or waist, the Lanvin and the Chanel are able to accomplish far more than all of the combined back dressmakers who believe that a new style can only be achieved by compelling the mode to do an abrupt about-face. It is true enough that the essence of fashion is change, but it is equally certain that human nature normally offers the strongest resistance to any deviations from its accustomed fare. The task for the genius of the couturier is to reconcile these premises—to produce a vitality different effort, but to avoid radically different themes; to lead the mode into unaccustomed channels by the most accustomed methods.

Not Favored by Autumn Mode. These are pertinent considerations in any analysis of the new clothes which will sound the costume keynote for fall and winter. A great deal of disappointment has been manifested because at the Paris openings and at the French shore resorts, where some of the fall clothes were made their appearance, there is no evidence of a very radical change in the mode. The short skirt has become a little shorter, perhaps a little wider; the straight line maintains its indelible rigidity. And the dilettante critic, lamenting bitterly over the evil days which have come to a mode which in their eyes shows no change, some avowal upon the bizarre efforts of a few sensation-hunters whose creations will never grace anything more than the momentary shoulders of the mannequin.

The mistake of these too casual observers is that they consider the means and not the end. It is true that the couturier have not greatly changed, that plain and simple, slenderness and simplicity, and so on, are just as potent factors in the new mode as they were in the old. But it is equally patent that the creative genius of the French couturier has brought a grace and dignity into its latest fashions which will have a deeper revolutionary change which have been sponsored by the lesser lights of the mode. The inauguration of a new style cycle is not necessarily indicated by these artistic changes but there has been unquestionably added an atmosphere of maturity which has been conspicuously lacking in recent seasons.

The logical representations of the new autumn tendencies retain the straight, short, slender simplicity of forms the fringe it threaded through the fabric with a half-dozen or more stitches.

Callot featured this new-in-fringe in the early spring, and it is one of the decorative themes that has become.

White Silk, Featuring a Combination of Flat and Fringe Embroidery.

more pronounced as the season has advanced. Such an adornment immediately transforms the simplest looking dress into one of quite elaborate style. It is in no way detracts from the slender line, as the threads, braids or cords used for this type of embroidery are of artificial silk and have both brilliancy and weight. The strands are sufficiently coarse to prevent tangling. It is quite apparent that simplicity will again be the dominant note. Everything that is slim and straight is expressed in the newest dresses. The silhouette may have a source, it may be plaited, it may be cut with a slight flare fullness. It may be straight around at the hem or there may be a tunic, but in all its varying forms fashion keeps to the very straight line.

Skirts Are Shorter. Skirts are distinctly shorter than they were at the February showings. Just as the straight line has prevailed over the circular cut, so also has there been a definite movement in favor of the shorter skirt as against the longer one. Thus today the fashionable skirt is both short and retains its slender outline. The occasional wideness that is being introduced at the autumn openings does not materially disturb the straight silhouette.

The tunic form is in evidence everywhere, and so is the double volume with the upper source a bit fuller than the lower. Often the tunic is flowered, embroidered or printed in high colors. Lovely new frocks are being made in pastel plaids of various shades of one color, notably mauve and periwinkle blue. This plaid tunic is worn over a narrow foundation skirt of pure white, which may be either plaited or plain.

Once more the Paris modistes are staging a carefully prepared revolution against the perennial cloche which for the last few seasons has crowded, or any other cheap cut out of the picture, and from early indications, their new set efforts will be relatively successful. Which does not mean that the cloche is about to fade into a quick oblivion, but rather that it will now be compelled to share the spotlight with hats of different types.

The St. Cloud Country club, because of its social importance, has come to be one of the most significant fashion centers of the present mode, and the millinery exploited at this resort, definitely forecasts the styles which will eventually be adopted for fall and winter. At the recent polo matches many medium large hats were noted in salient and cloche forms. These hats can only be called large in comparison with the extremely small ones that have been so much worn—really they are not excessively large. Numerous Suzanne Talbot models were in evidence, some of them made of ribbon, anticipating definitely the autumn season. Talbot is also having great success with her straw-embroidered tulio hats, the straw being plaited in feather-like motifs that fall flat on the table. This is a medium large cloche with quite a pronounced droop to the brim, suggesting in a way the poke bonnet, as the brim is narrow at the back. Another of her hats which is much noted is a sailor shape, either medium or large, made entirely of felt or cords of veiled set together with openwork stitching, like venise point. This veiling is so tightly made that it stands stiff and supports the space between the folds.

Styles of Handkerchiefs Demand Much Attention

Styles in handkerchiefs have engaged the attention of the most exclusive merchants, and some entirely new ideas have been established. The all-white handkerchief is something for the conservative only, and little account of it is taken by the up-to-date element. Since the first gay kechiefs appeared, beautifully colored linens and voiles have been brought out. White squares with borders of the most artistic shades of mauve, yellow, blue, green, rose or gray are shown, the corners in blocks of deeper shades, and most effective. Delicate colors are deepened in the bands, which now to be fashionable are wide, and these are to be had in both linen and cotton in great variety. To be quite as full one should have her handkerchief match her stockings. Some women carry the same color from hat to shoes, in every detail of costume. In contrast to the batik nouveau art and other bright-colored handkerchiefs shown earlier in the season, the more quiet hues are popular now.

At Last—a Blonde Hair Shampoo!

Keeps Light Hair From Darkening—Lightens Faded Blonde Hair.

When light haired people wash their hair in an ordinary way, a thin film of oil is left on each hair, which collects dirt and dust, causing the hair to darken. That is why blondes should always use a special shampoo. For while light hair is always attractive, its beauty is lost just as soon as it becomes uncertain in color "dirty-looking" and streaky. Blondes, the new Swedish light hair shampoo, not only keeps blonde hair from darkening, but actually brings back the true golden beauty to even the dulled and most faded blonde hair. Makes the hair fluffy, silky, highly beneficial to both hair and scalp. It is not a dye. Contains no injurious chemicals. Money instantly refunded if not delighted. Get Blondes today! A. A. Fashion Notes That Are of Interest to Women

Gray grows in favor since it shades in so well with the black and white combination that is so popular.

White bodices joined to black skirts are exploited by some of the smartest creators of fashion.

The combination of flame-colored crepe and black satin is one that is decidedly popular for dinner gowns.

Gold leather is being used by French milliners in the trimming of fall hats. Narrow strips are wound about the crown or made into small bows or cockades.

A jacket and collar of plaid chiffon and a hem of the same make very attractive decorations on a gown of navy blue flat crepe.

Diagonal bands of lace trim frocks of organdie or voile made without belts and sleeves.

Very short gloves with full gauntlets, which give the effect of a ruffle about the hand, are worn with sleeveless frocks by the smart Parisiennes.

Bands of red and black are very much liked as trimming for white sport dresses.

The medium-sized hat does not exist this year, either it is a broad-brimmed model, practically untrimmed, or a small shape that is mostly crown and no brim.

The ostrich boa has returned to favor this season and is used very effectively to give a certain flattering effect about the necklines. Tulle and chiffon are both used for scarfs that have no mission in life but to please.

Matching accessories are the vogue this year. Hats and purses match, as well as the scarf, umbrella and purse. It is a fact that can be overdone very easily and must be handled with discretion.

Now Paris says from ten to fifteen inches from the floor is the range allowed in skirt lengths. That means that shoes and heels are going to become even more important than now.

Various Ways to Avoid Slipping of Lingerie

The annoyance of lingerie straps, with their inconvenient way of appearing from beneath the neckline of the frock, is avoided in various ways by women who study these important little details.

Some sew inside the neckline of their frocks, just at the shoulder seams, a pair of little ribbons of the same color as the frock. These slip under the shoulder straps of the lingerie, and assure delicate ladies of the frock with a couple of snap fasteners.

Others provide their lingerie with narrow removable shoulder straps made of bands. A few women refuse to wear shoulder straps of any kind, and provide their slinkies and corsets with a strip of elastic run through the upper hem. This device, however, provokes the criticism that "one must not suffer too much to be beautiful."

The Word Factory

Shang is the great manufacturer of words, for it is constantly originating new ones which eventually are approved by the lexicographers and get into the dictionaries. But radio has made a record in its responsibility for 5,000 new words added to our speech in a very short time. Golf has added its contribution of a few hundred, but it has been more deliberate in keeping with the nation which is sponsor for the game. The automobile must be given credit for its share and aviation has added quite an array.

Maintain Cleanliness

Most food substances spoil quickly in warm weather. Feeding utensils soon become contaminated. Bacteria and disease germs multiply rapidly. All of which means that the poultry man must use unusual care in maintaining cleanliness. In this way danger of disease is largely eliminated. It is not only entirely possible to have good success with late-hatched chicks, but it is much easier of accomplishment than with the earlier-hatched birds.

their predecessors in the mode, but they have added a graceful authority which quickly distinguishes them from the garish styles of last season. They are distinctive without being bizarre, different but not radical.

The long tunic is the most outstanding characteristic of these frocks, which also exploit face, the flounce and vivid colorings. The heels for all is the simple silhouette, now more firmly enounced than ever before.

Long Sleeves in the Mode. A distinguishing feature of the late season is the long sleeve. While many of the dresses are still sleeveless, the really new note is the long, perfect-fitting sleeve adjusted to a small slender armhole. The sleeve follows the outline of the upper arm, fitting quite snugly and sometimes even tightly. From the elbow down the sleeve may vary in form. Often it is finished exactly like a shirtwaist, with a little cuff band; again it is similar to Chinese style and trimmed with a band of material, this band in many instances being corded. But it has always a neat trim appearance.

Occasionally these light-fitting sleeves have behind the elbow one or two picked flounces or decorations of hand-embroidered fringe, made of organdie or linen, a smooth tubular coat which dressmakers are now using for sew-in and embroidered fringes. Each little strand of the cord that

Will Save 68 Cents Per Ton on Coal by Shipping by River

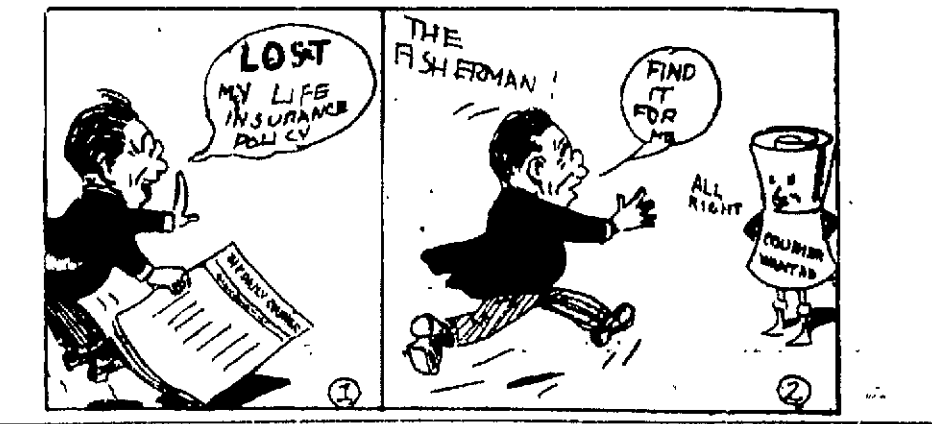

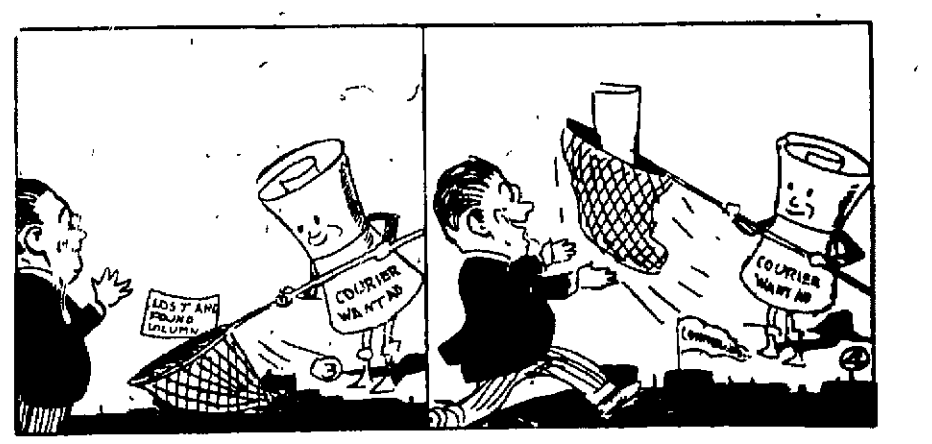

In connection with the prospective development of a tract of 15,000 acres of coal near the mouth of Dunkard creek, Greene county, by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, it is estimated that a saving of 68 cents per ton in transporting coal to Pittsburg will be effected by the harge system to be employed.

It is expected that the cost of river transportation will be about 45 cents, as against $1.13 per ton if shipped by rail from Point Marion.

It is stated that work on the new development will begin early in November.

Prolonging Building Season Is Favored

The movement to prolong the building season through the winter months is everywhere meeting with favor among contractors, fabricalors and the building trades generally. The advantages to be gained were recently pointed out by a prominent contractor who said: "The idea of crowding a year's construction work into three or four hectic months is a relic of the days when concrete could not be poured after the thermometer dropped below the freezing point, and it was believed unsafe to lay bricks during the cold weather. Due to modern construction facilities, any kind of building, from a dwelling to a skyscraper, can now be put up no matter what the weather may, and without any delay.

"The long periods of inactivity have been done away with to a considerable extent, but the 'winter lull' is still with us. Lengthening of the building season will mean greater production from men now engaged in the building trades and will go far toward attracting capable apprentices."

BIG SAVING RESULTS FROM INSPECTION OF COAL BY RAILROADS

On P. & L. R. Was $351,919 in 1932; Proportionately Same on N. Y. C.

CARE TAKEN IN BUYING

The operation of the coal inspection system in use by the New York Central System and subsidiary lines has resulted in large savings in the cost of fuel used in transportation. By the end of 1932 the consumption of coal in freight service on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, for 1,000 gross ton miles had been reduced to 79 pounds as compared with 103.9 pounds in 1920. In 1921 and 1922 the consumption was 95 pounds in 1921 and 81.7 pounds in 1922. This represented a saving of the largely increased amount of fuel used due to the unprecedented traffic of 1922, of no less than $281,205.

In passenger service the saving has been proportionately as great. In 1920 the consumption of coal per car-mile was 35.7 pounds, in 1921 it was 27.2 pounds, in 1922 it was 25 pounds. The aggregate saving on fuel in passenger service was $103,614, grand total in freight and passenger service $384,819. This record places the Lake Erie in first rank among railroads of the United States in point of low coal consumption.

On the main lines of the New York Central System, the reducing in cost of coal has been proportionately as large. One result is reduction in the number of steam failures on locomotives on the road on some divisions of the lines west from 142 in the first five months of 1924 to 136 in the corresponding period of 1924. On the lines east there were 168 steam failures in 14 months. After the fuel inspection bureau had gotten under way and all old stocks of coal had been used up these failures were reduced to six in three months.

The organization consists of a general fuel inspector, two chief inspectors and 11 local district fuel inspectors. Coal is purchased only from mines on the New York Central lines. No one can sell coal to the New York Central until a favorable report has been turned in by an inspector, after a most thorough examination of the mine, the loading facilities and the general practice at the mine. Samples of the coal are sent to the research laboratory at Albany for analysis. Coal is not purchased by the number of British thermal units per ton but for its adaptability to locomotive use. This calls for high percentage of volatile matter.

Local fuel inspectors have authority to reject any coal at the mines that in their opinion is not of standard quality or that contains an excessive amount of impurities or sluck as well as any that shows laxity in preparation or loading. In cases where rejections have been found continuously necessary, as a final resort, on recommendation of the highest in charge, an embargo is placed on the offending mine. This is a pretty serious matter for the coal operator, for the New York Central is a good customer. Its fuel requirements in 1932 was in excess of 1,500,000 tons.

Compensation Is Allowed in Sunstroke

Heat exhaustion is sufficient compensation to injury to be compensated under Pennsylvania law according to a decision given by Chairman T. Henry Walcott, of the State Compensation Board, upholding an award to David Gussman, Pittsburg, in a claim against the R. T. Penrose Company, of that city.

The case was an unusual one as Gussman is now 75 years of age and last summer was working as a carpenter in a building under construction by the Penrose Company. He was found in a yard nearby in a dazed condition and with a "limp" compensation because of sunstroke. The company contended his condition was due to natural causes arising from a changed physical condition occasioned by advancing years. The chairman held sunstroke caused the injury.

Your Question and Answer

QUESTION—"Will you please explain how Chiropactic accounts for the cause and cure of disease? Is it confined to diseases of the nervous system?"

ANSWER—Briefly stated, Chiropactic teaches that disease comes when the organs and tissues are weakened and their resistance lowered by lack of Vital Energy supplied by the brain over the spinal nerves. This vital energy may become partially shut off by pressure. This pressure can exist only in the spine where the nerves make their exit between two movable bones. When pressure exists the organ supplied by the pinched nerve suffers, and will continue to suffer until the pressure is released. Acting as a body mechanic, the Chiropactor locates the point of pressure and then releases it with a spinal adjustment. Experience clearly demonstrates that Chiropactic is not limited, but it is applicable in all kinds of sickness.

This department is edited to spread the knowledge of Chiropactic. Queries will be answered in the order received if addressed to

W. F. FREDERICK PIANO CO.

Next Orpheum Theatre,

Connellsville, Pa.

Lancaster seemed beside himself with fury, far more angry, indeed, than the situation appeared to warrant.

"She might have killed Miss Wentworth!" he screamed. "Two good enough from you without this. I've suffered you, God knows, until you've sapped my strength and crushed me under your feet, and made me look of a man than the meanest drunkard in Millville, but now it's ended. Get out of my sight. Leave the institute tomorrow!"

"Say," shouted Myers, "am I responsible if that woman got out of her room? Why the sense of picking on me? Didn't you hire a nurse to take care of your patients. Ain't Mrs. Dana a patient? Now there's been enough said, I reckon. You know what I mean, doctor. Better go back to your room and forget what you've said tonight."

"If ever I see your face after tonight, by God I'll kill you!" shouted Lancaster.

Myers slunk away toward the stairs. "O, all right, all right," he answered. "I reckon you'll be sorry tomorrow. But I'll hold you to what you've said. I ain't going to see that nurse bust up my work here."

He scowled furiously at John as he went down the stairs, a grotesque, almost deformed figure in his loose pajamas. "But Joan hardly needed the nurse. She didn't know the cause of Lancaster's sudden outbreak of rage, but she knew that it was part of the whole dreadful problem, and that, in fighting Lancaster's devil, she was at work upon the darkest corner of the dark mystery."

"I think, Doctor Lancaster, you had better go," said the nurse, "and said, 'No harm has been done, but I am very sorry you were awakened.'"

He was leaning against the wall, looking at her with a strange expression upon his face. He breathed quickly, like a man in uncontrollable agitation. Just then the matron came out of Mrs. Dana's room.

"How did it happen, Mrs. Fraser?" asked Lancaster.

The matron snapped the key in the lock before answering. "I don't know, Doctor Lancaster," she answered. "The lock's all right. It couldn't have been picked. And I swear I looked it last night. Somebody must have let her out."

"That bound—" began Lancaster,

"The Hound—" began Lancaster, but Jean interposed.

but John interposed. "She may have found a key," she said.

The matron shook her head. "No key would fit that lock, except the right one," she answered.

"Why should anyone tamper with that lock?" Lancaster muttered. Suddenly he broke down and covered his face with his hands. His shoulders shook convulsively. John put her hand on his arm.

"Doctor Lancaster, you must go back to your room now," she said. "It was nothing and it is all ended."

"Miss Wentworth, if you will stay with me till six it will help me to master myself. It is not the wear of yielding to morphine; it is my thoughts. You know how once life comes crowding upon one in the darkness."

"I'll stay with you," said John.

"Let us wait on the veranda," said Lancaster. "The air is refreshing in this house. Put on a wrap and I will wait for you there."

Joan ran upstairs and slipped on her cloak. When she got back Lancaster had not moved from the door. The secretary was packing noisily in his room.

They went outside together, closing the front door behind them, as if to shut in the evil influences in the place. There was a hint of morning in the air, the freshness in the piling of the night above the eastern mountains.

Lancaster led the way toward the chairs at the end of the veranda and wiped the dew from them with his handkerchief.

"When you came here," he said, as they sat down, "when on the impulse I asked you to come here, I did not dream that my impulse was the prompting of my good angel."

"You said I was your good angel," said Joan lightly.

IVAN OLSON SHREWD AS BASEBALL PLAYER

Profited by Ancient Advice "Use Your Head."

"Use your head." That advice has been handed down on a multitude of occasions ever since Noah pulled it the first time as advice to the goat which was having trouble getting aboard the ark.

Ivan Olson is one of the greatest living examples of how that advice, taken right, will profit a man.

Here is a player who should have been out of big leagues years ago as far as purely mechanical playing ability is concerned, but who just plugging away because of his shrewd brain and fighting spirit.

Now, though, through as a player, he is one of the main cogs in the Brooklyn Dodgers machine—and one of the men responsible for keeping that team up in the race against the judgment of most critics.

Olson never was a great player, mechanically. He is erratic in his fielding. His errors, unfortunately, usually were costly. Yet despite his handicap and an occasional slumping, he has placed the infield in the big leagues since 1911.

The first four of those years he spent with Cleveland. The next year, 1915, he went to Cincinnati. Even that early in his career his inconsistent ent playing had caused the Cleveland club to let him go at the winter price. The Reds let him go to Brooklyn before the season ended. His reputation there was cool. Year after year the scribbles panned Uncle Robinson at various times for leaving him in the lineup. Frank rode Ivan hard. But Olson kept right on.

He played every infield position for Cleveland and did the same for the Dodgers over the years between 1915 and this spring.

Olson possesses that rare quality of judgment needed in an infielder which enables him to outguess the opposing batter and anticipate actions on the bases. He not only stands as an infield but encourages a pitcher and helps him.

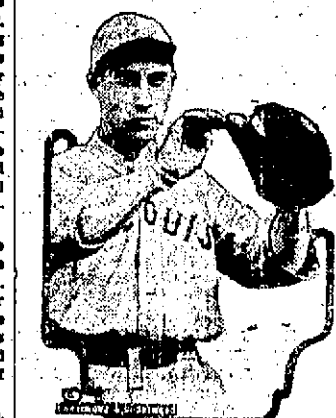

Olson played a part in two successful attempts made by Brooklyn to win the National league championship—in 1916 and 1920. In the latter series, against his old Cleveland teammates, Olson hit .320, collecting eight hits in 25 times up.

Yankee's New Fielder

Hogan, new outfielder of the New York Yankees, just purchased from the Redding club, shows great promise and has been placed regularly in the lineup of the champion Yankees. He is a good fielder and a hard hitter.

Norman McMillan Stars

Norman McMillan, third baseman of the St. Louis Browns, who was traded to that team in exchange for Homer Earl of the Boston Americans. McMillan has played a star game for St. Louis so far.

Red Smith Resented Warbling of Byron

"I wonder," roared Jimmy Convey of Reds the other day, "how Red Smith and Unhappy Byron are getting along in the Coast league. Wonder if they have made up and become friends? They sure had a rich battle on the coast a few years ago, and all because Byron persisted in singing. He called some bad strikes on Red one afternoon, and when Red turned to protest, Byron began to warble, whereupon Red crowded him."

"Next afternoon, Byron came out, advanced to the front of the grandstand, doffed his cap, and spoke to the audience."

"Ladies and gentlemen," said he, "I wish to express my regret for what happened yesterday, and to give you my assurance that it will not occur again."

"And Red Smith, standing before his bench, explained: 'Ladies and gentlemen, if Mr. Byron starts to sing any more, it's going to all happen over again. I don't like his voice.'"

LACK OF FOOTBALL STARS AT HARVARD

Coach Fisher Inclined to Put Blame on Alumni.

Robert T. Fisher, football coach at Harvard, has recently bewailed the lack of good material at Cambridge and said he was inclined to blame the alumni for this lack of desirable grid-iron talent.

The trouble with the Harvard alumni, Fisher believes, is that they do not think Harvard enough among the colleges and universities go about falling so much of the blame that they leave no doubt in the minds of youngsters of playing talent where to go for a college education and football talent.

Harvard, it seems, is sadly in need of a loud and vigorous bullyboosing. There is no doubt that Mr. Fisher is fairly convinced that Yale has Harvard smothered when it comes to this game art. Considering the work of the Yale football eleven last autumn, the marvelous record of her variety, rowing eight this spring and the showing of some of her other teams, the good old Harvard institution has been thoroughly bullyboosed in this broad and favored land in recent years.

No coach can get out winning teams unless he has the material, says Mr. Fisher, and no school can get the desired material unless the alumni gets busy and sends the right kind of boys along.

Harvard has not been getting enough of the desired type of athletes unless the alumni hustles out and sells Harvard on all sides the ancient rival of the Cambridge school will again rise to the eminent position she once held over Harvard in sports. From what the 1923-24 inter-collegiate records show Yale is fairly well started in doing exactly that.

"Selling" colleges and universities is the established custom of the age. Let a boy show any degree of athletic ability and a dozen "salesmen" will visit him. He will have a wide choice if he cares to undertake a college education.

Never has there been such an intensive selling campaign as the various alumni are carrying on now.

Using Head in New Way to Get Assist

"That's using your head," is a complimentary expression of the ball field when some player pulls a brilliant play, the result of quick thinking," says Billy Evans.

"Never shall I forget a play that featured Bill Hogan and Bert Shotton, which was made possible by using the head, but in an entirely different manner."

Hogan was playing left field for St. Louis, Bert Shotton was in center. St. Louis was playing at Washington. Left field is the sun field at the National park.

"A long fly was hit to left field. Hogan called for the play and Bert Shotton went over into left field territory to back up. After having judged the ball perfectly, Hogan lost it in the sun at the last minute. He ducked his head to prevent possible injury to his eyes. The ball struck him a glancing blow on the side of the head and careened directly into the hands of Bert Shotton, who made the catch, retiring the batter. Hogan received an assist on the play."

"Shotton, between laughs," told Hogan, what had happened. Since the ball had been caught, he forgot the other embarrassing feature of the play. Arm in arm the two players marched to the bench.

"And, of course, to complete the situation some wag in the left field bleachers yelled:

"That's using your head, old boy."

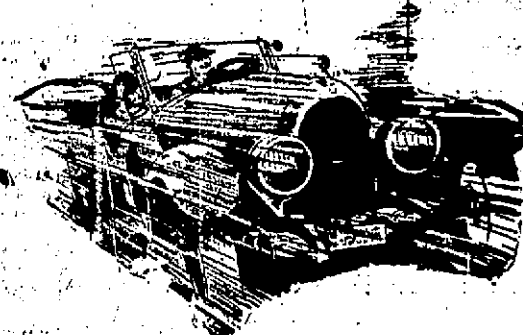

Outfielder Jess Allenburg, former Michigan university star, who played with Texas, Toronto and Newark in the international league, has signed with the Allentown (Pa.) independent team.

Twirler Whiffs 24 Out of 29 Batters

Jack Rogers, eighteen of South Pittsburgh, Penn., who enters Mercer university next fall, whiffed out 24 of 29 batters to face him in a game which his team, the Case-Powers, won from Hawkinsville, Ga., 10 to 0. Only two Hawkinsville players reached first. Rogers, who has only one out, delivered the ball with his head turned toward first base.

COMPANY B OF OLD 28TH HOLDS ANNUAL REUNION

But Five Members of Civil War
Command of Mount Pleasant Survive.

TWO DIE DURING YEAR

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 15.—The surviving members of Company B, 28th Infantry, held their annual reunion on the anniversary of the battle of Antietam yesterday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth McGregor. Five were present. Sylvester Steiner and Franklin Criss, who were with them last year, had died. Those present were William Wright, Southwest, 83 years old; Jonathan Barron, Mount Pleasant, 85; Isaiah Myers, Mount Pleasant, 77; C. W. Swartz, Mount Pleasant, 81; Nicholas Long, New Stanton, 78. The veterans during the day rehearsed the battles and experiences of the Civil War. The dinner is an annual affair and is to be held as long as one member survives.

Reunion Service.
A reunion service was held at the prayer-meeting at the Re-Union Presbyterian Church last evening. All members of the church were made recruits at the prayer service.

Shower. Wednesday.
Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Shober, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shober of Washington street, and Michael McGovern, of Center avenue at Hagerstown, Md. last Monday. Miss Shober is a graduate of the Mount Pleasant High School.

Cornestone Laying Sunday.
Next Sunday the cornerstone will be laid for the new Church of the Brethren that is being built in Washington street. L. B. Knapp of Winboro will have charge of the service. Rev. M. J. Brounger of Greensburg will preach the sermon. The service will be held at 2:30 p.m.

Dawson

DAWSON, Sept. 15.—C. A. Landy, more, Pittsburg & Lake Erie engineer, who had been on the sick list two months, is back to his work on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie.

Ted Corbett has returned to his home at Bellevue after a week's visit here with friends.

Mrs. Nulian Rogers of New Brighton is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Laughrey.

Some of the nicest peaches seen here in years are being sold by the farmers. The finest Elberta are being delivered to your door at $2 a bushel.

Mrs. Harry Cochran was a recent guest of friends in Pittsburg.

Mrs. Wilson Boers is visiting with friends in Youngstown, Ohio.

The last of the stock which was on exhibition at the fair was shipped on Tuesday. Dawson again proved its ability in handling the crowds. The automobile traffic was very heavy and the crowd was handled with but one or two arrests. The borough officers are very much pleased with the good work of the police. It was the second year for Policeman V. D. Cullough who was on duty at the bank corner and it will be no fault of the borough officials if his face is not seen there next year during the races.

Dawson and Vanderbilt sent a large delegation to South Connelleville Monday and saw the Division defeat the Captain Independents by a score of 2 to 0. Jack Menefee, nephew of the famous Jack Menefee, Sr., was on the mound for the Divas and had Captain at his mercy. Jack has been anxious to get a chance at them and always said he would defeat them and he certainly made good his promise.

Mrs. P. J. Cunningham and daughter, Gertrude, were recent Pittsburg visitors.
